Israeli forces were reported advancing on the Arab stronghold of Jenin yesterday. In much the same area that the Arabs said they were throwing a ring around Tel Aviv and the southern part of the Israeli coastal strip. The Christian Union of Palestine accused Israeli forces of having used Christian shrines in Jerusalem as military bases.

Arab and Israeli leaders were discussing their replies, due tonight, to the United Nations Security Council's forty-eight-hour truce demand. It was indicated that both sides would make conditional acceptances.

United States troops were asked to stay in Korea until the new Government could protect itself. Dr. Syngman Rhee, opening the National Assembly, said it was the sovereign and "sole representative body" of the whole nation. He regretted the absence of North Koreans and offered the Communists a final chance to join.

"Real wages" in this country fell with the removal of controls, the International Labor Office reported. A guaranteed wage, it said, would tend to increase production and also raise prices. An independent survey said "real wages" in Russia had fallen 50 per cent since 1928 even after taking Government "services" into consideration.

MEMORIAL SEASON PROGRAM CHANGED BY THE WEATHER

Most Scheduled for Sunday and Monday Are Held, However

CROWDS ARE SMALLER

Rev. M. J. Peterson, Venor, N. J., Speaks Here; Some Routes Shortened

Memorial services were held in most communities of this area where scheduled yesterday and Sunday, but weather conditions compelled some changes and kept attendance lower than usual.

Memorial Day observed here yesterday by three veterans organizations—Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion; Joseph A. Schumacher Post and Chester W. Terchon Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was marked with overcast skies and a fine drizzle of rain which fell throughout the entire service conducted at the memorial plot in the Bristol cemetery.

An audience, smaller than usual, turned out to honor those who had paid the supreme sacrifice in the wars of their country. Those present stood beneath umbrellas, under trees and sat in automobiles throughout the program.

ARMY FAMILY QUARTERS

Some persons—especially in an election year—cannot or will not face elementary facts of life. The Army has a bill that it wants to see passed as essential to the happiness of men making the service a career. It would increase the allowance for building family quarters, varying the size, as in the past, according to rank from non-commissioned officers on up to generals.

Representative Bates of Massachusetts says he will try to amend the bill so that everybody, from sergeant up, will have the same size and kind of house. This he thinks should be of two stories with three bedrooms in a multiple-unit building of eight houses.

Apparently he sees the wisdom of trying to keep regular Army men happy in their careers. But how he is going to make a sergeant and a general happy by making them live in identical houses, however adequate for shelter, is beyond the average imagination.

If he thinks that equality of that sort is democratic, he is stupid. One of the most cherished opportunities and rights in America is that of gaining privileges by earning them. Representative Bates should know that an American is a competitive creature, and is likely to judge his success in life (among other things) by the kind of house he obtains for his family to live in.

Does he think that a sergeant would wish to become an officer, with added responsibilities, if he couldn't have something better to live in?

Does he think the general would want to stay in the Army if a net result of his years of technical education, of beating his brains to keep up with modern developments, would be having nothing better to live in as time went on?

In the early days of Bolshevism in Russia that sort of thing—no special privileges for officers—was tried. It didn't work. It won't work in Russia or anywhere else.

UNKIND CUT

New autos are not completely equipped with accessories today if they merely come with rearing-up lights, windshield sprays, sun visors, ornaments where the radiator formerly was, etc. Some of the more enterprising dealers may equip each car with a hand carving knife.

In Kansas a man involved in a traffic dispute with another driver pulled out a knife and chased his foe around the car a few times before the victim made his escape. In Hollywood a woman driver drew a Chinese ceremonial knife and stabbed herself when a motorcycle flatfoot gave her a traffic ticket.

If many drivers are ready and willing for a little extra-curricular carving at the slightest pretext, the rest of us may soon begin to feel a trifle naked without our favorite blade.

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol April 7, 1898. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

TULLYTOWN—At the regular meeting of the borough council on last Monday evening a new Board of Health was appointed. The members are: Dr. Frank Connor, Messrs. Elwood Walters, Charles A. Ashton, Charles Carter and William Barrett.

Mr. William Lovett has commenced operations at Mr. John Barton's fishery, but shad are still scarce in the upper Delaware and hauls have been light. Only two nets from this borough are being fished by drifters this season. Messrs. William Barrett and James Parr, and Messrs. Wallace White and Charles R. Bennett, the respective proprietors, have been quite successful considering the early season.

It is said that the first ticket sold at the new railroad station at Morrisville was for Penn Valley. Stacy Hepburn was the purchaser.

Borough council organized for the ensuing year on last Monday morning. Frank Flum of the third ward was sworn in. The old officers of the borough were unanimously re-elected. The rules governing the old council were adopted. Council now consists of members as follows: First ward, Samuel Scott, Thomas Scott, H. H. H. Poole and James Wright; second ward, Owen Evans, Sr., W. Frank Scull, Alfred Pearson and William Allen; third ward, Samuel Milnor, Louis Wettling, Fred Byers and Frank F. Flum; fourth ward, Dennis Dugan, John V. Kelly, Maurice McCue and Michael McCarty, Jr.

Llewellyn Davis and Phillip Blackwood graduated last Saturday at the Williamson Free School of Mechanical Trades. Llewellyn Davis graduated in carpentry and Phillip Blackwood in brick-laying. Both were given a general course in architecture.

Judging from the number of baby carriages received last Tuesday by J. Wesley Wright that gentleman must expect a large increase in Bristol's population this year.

Charles Wollard has received the contract for the erection of a residence for P. J. Barrett at the corner of Buckley and Spruce streets.

Ex-County Treasurer Harry Banes caught three dozen herring in one dip with a net in the canal basin last week.

Miss Elizabeth Vanuxem died suddenly at her home at the corner of Radcliffe and Dorrance streets on last Friday evening of heart disease. Miss Vanuxem was born near Bristol and spent most of her life here. She was the daughter of Lardner and Mary Ann Vanuxem.

The public school teachers of Bristol township met at the Bloomsdale school last Friday. Those present were: The Misses Hykes, Clark, and Roberts; Messrs. Paul, Fink and Stuckert.

James Bantam, colored, aged 94 (Lower Bensalem), was buried Sunday at the Bensalem A. M. E. burying ground. During the greater part of his life he was a resident of Bridgeville, being commonly called "Dandy Jim".

EMILIE—The "First of April" made but little change in our immediate vicinity. Mr. Clark Dyer removed from Joseph Smith's house to the Taylor property; Mr. Frank McElhenny from Mr. Philip Hall's to Midway. In the country around several changes have been made. Mr. Samuel Rue, of Bristol, now occupies his farm, formerly owned by William Booz; Mr. Elwood LaRue, has removed to Mr. John R. Stackhouse's farm.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

The 'Villainous Program'

Washington, June 1—Nothing quite like the effort to force Mr. Truman out of public life before the Democratic National Convention has occurred in our political history. In effect, it is an attempt to blackmail a President into a public abdication of his office, involving great personal humiliation. It is likely to succeed.

The two groups involved are—first, the Democratic senators from the South enraged by the Truman "civil-rights" proposals which the Alabama declaration describes as a "villainous program to enforce racial equality"; second, former New Deal jobholders who are using the very eager to be used Roosevelt brothers (Elliott and Franklin, Jr.) and their mother for their own political purposes. Personally, all of these are for the "villainous program" because it was favored by the late Mr. Roosevelt and is part of the creed of all "Roosevelt liberals".

THUS we have the strange situation of two groups anxious to lynch Mr. Truman, but themselves as widely apart as groups can be. While the "villainous program" which has brought the South to the boiling point is dear to the hearts of all the Roosevelt and Roosevelt followers, the other alleged reasons for the New Deal Truman opposition logically should endear him to the South. Among those reasons are his so-called Palestine "betrayal," his failure to retain in his Administration some of the advanced New Dealers, such as Mr. Landis, and the fact that he is not at heart an advanced New Dealer.

himself. Thus, the only things which these two anti-Truman elements have in common are—first, their desire to deprive Mr. Truman of the nomination; second, an absence of any available alternative.

OF THE two groups, the Southern Democrats are by far the strongest and most important. The other is trivial in comparison, without influence in the convention and very little in the country. It is impotent to affect results before or after the nomination. The Southern "revolt" is different. If the Alabama plan of choosing electors pledged not to vote for Mr. Truman in the Electoral College is followed by other Southern states, on the surface it means that Mr. Truman could not be elected and the Democrats would be disastrously defeated. Armed with this formidable weapon, it is the plan of Southern leaders to approach Mr. Truman through his "friends," in effect saying: "Look, Harry, here is plain evidence that you can't win. There is only one thing for you to do. For the sake of the party and the country you must announce your retirement and declare for General Eisenhower. If you do that, the convention will unanimously draft him. He will have to run and the party will be saved."

A FOURTH reason is that though he has not—and will not make a statement on the subject, there is every reason to believe that the Republican, Kansas-born Eisenhower, that clearheaded gentleman could not in honor let himself be used to salvage the fortunes or gratify the prejudices of the aforementioned groups—because that is what it would amount to.

ALSO, they admit that any candidate, pleasing to the Roosevelt family—particularly Justice W. O. Douglas—inevitably would be for the "villainous program" and just as offensive to them as Mr. Truman. With Eisenhower unavailable, the Southern Democrats are engaged in an obviously futile battle, the only result of which would seem to be their own disfigurement. Unlike the New Deal group and its

Some persons—especially in an election year—cannot or will not face elementary facts of life. The Army has a bill that it wants to see passed as essential to the happiness of men making the service a career. It would increase the allowance for building family quarters, varying the size, as in the past, according to rank from non-commissioned officers on up to generals.

Representative Bates of Massachusetts says he will try to amend the bill so that everybody, from sergeant up, will have the same size and kind of house. This he thinks should be of two stories with three bedrooms in a multiple-unit building of eight houses.

Apparently he sees the wisdom of trying to keep regular Army men happy in their careers. But how he is going to make a sergeant and a general happy by making them live in identical houses, however adequate for shelter, is beyond the average imagination.

If he thinks that equality of that sort is democratic, he is stupid. One of the most cherished opportunities and rights in America is that of gaining privileges by earning them. Representative Bates should know that an American is a competitive creature, and is likely to judge his success in life (among other things) by the kind of house he obtains for his family to live in.

Does he think that a sergeant would wish to become an officer, with added responsibilities, if he couldn't have something better to live in?

Does he think the general would want to stay in the Army if a net result of his years of technical education, of beating his brains to keep up with modern developments, would be having nothing better to live in as time went on?

In the early days of Bolshevism in Russia that sort of thing—no special privileges for officers—was tried. It didn't work. It won't work, in Russia or anywhere else.

UNKIND CUT

New autos are not completely equipped with accessories today if they merely come with rearing-up lights, windshield sprays, sun visors, ornaments where the radiator formerly was, etc. Some of the more enterprising dealers may equip each car with a hand carving knife.

In Kansas a man involved in a traffic dispute with another driver pulled out a knife and chased his foe around the car a few times before the victim made his escape. In Hollywood a woman driver drew a Chinese ceremonial knife and stabbed herself when a motorcycle flatfoot gave her a traffic ticket.

If many drivers are ready and willing for a little extra-curricular carving at the slightest pretext, the rest of us may soon begin to feel a trifle naked without our favorite blade.

Nothing quite like the effort to force Mr. Truman out of public life before the Democratic National Convention has occurred in our political history. THE two groups involved are—first, the Democratic senators from the South enraged by the Truman "civil-rights" proposals which the Alabama declaration describes as a "villainous program to enforce racial equality"; second, former New Deal jobholders who are using the very eager to be used Roosevelt brothers (Elliott and Franklin, Jr.) and their mother for their own political purposes. It is impotent to affect results before or after the nomination. The Southern "revolt" is different. If the Alabama plan of choosing electors pledged not to vote for Mr. Truman in the Electoral College is followed by other Southern states, on the surface it means that Mr. Truman could not be elected and the Democrats would be disastrously defeated. There is only one thing for you to do. For the sake of the party and the country you must announce your retirement and declare for General Eisenhower. If you do that, the convention will unanimously draft him. He will have to run and the party will be saved."

THAT is the idea. There are only five things wrong with it—first, Mr. Truman, with more than 900 delegates committed to him, certainly will not quit when that pistol is put to his head; second, it is inconceivable that General Eisenhower would fall for a transparent frame-up as that—even if he wanted to be President, which he does not; third, even if Mr. Truman turned coward and permitted himself to be scared out of the picture, the convention unanimously "drafted" General Eisenhower, that clearheaded gentleman could not in honor let himself be used to salvage the fortunes or gratify the prejudices of the aforementioned groups—because that is what it would amount to.

A FOURTH reason is that though he has not and will not make a statement on the subject, there is every reason to believe that the Republican, Kansas-born Eisenhower is no more opposed to the "villainous program" than any other Republican. The fifth and final reason is that even if Mr. Truman were bullied out of the picture and even if General Eisenhower permitted himself to be "drafted," thereby opening himself to the charge of insincerity, he would certainly be playing a rather low trick on the University of Columbia, which has spent a good deal of money remodeling a handsome home along lines suggested by him. And, he might even be beaten in the election.

CONSIDERING these things, the calmer Southern Democrats privately admit there is small chance of getting Mr. Truman to withdraw and less of getting General Eisenhower to play ball with them. Also, they admit they have no alternative candidate who could be nominated or elected if nominated. Certainly, it is clear the nomination of any Democrat who repudiates the "villainous program" will drive every Negro vote in the pivotal border and Northern states back into the Republican party from which they came. This would insure a Democratic defeat just as surely as an electoral bolt in the South.

ALSO, they admit that any candidate, pleasing to the Roosevelt family—particularly Justice W. O. Douglas—inevitably would be for the "villainous program" and just as offensive to them as Mr. Truman. With Eisenhower unavailable, the Southern Democrats are engaged in an obviously futile battle, the only result of which would seem to be their own discomfiture. Unlike the New Deal group and its

ST. LUKE'S TEAM IN BIG 7TH RALLY WIN FIFTH GAME

A big seven-run rally in the second inning, featuring a home run by Erwin Weinrich with two on, enabled St. Luke's to score a 10-6 victory over their big rivals, Calvary Baptist, and thereby notch their fifth consecutive victory without a setback in the Lower Bucks Church Softball League to retain their hold on first place by a full game.

Excellent pitching backed by some heavy hitting combined to give Bristol Presbyterian a pair of easy triumphs during the week as they trounced Hulmeville, 28-4; and walloped Church of Our Saviour, 13-2. A tremendous 14-run rally in the fifth in which Presbyterian banged out eight hits, had three walks and were aided by four Hulmeville errors to turn the game into a rout.

First Baptist picked up a couple of victories to move up from a sixth place tie into undisputed possession of third place with a record of two victories and one setback in league competition thus far.

Trailing as much as 6-0 as late as the fifth inning, the Baptist club came a long way with four runs in the fifth, three more in the sixth, and after Hulmeville pushed one over also in the sixth to tie the score at 7-7. First Baptist rallied again in the 7th to score the winning marker as they defeated Hulmeville, 8-7, in a thriller.

Methodist, however, racked up its initial league triumph when they came from far behind twice in the late innings with big rallies to tie Bensalem, then they added a lone tally in the 8th inning to win out in a knockdown, drag-out affair, 14-13.

Calvary Baptist snapped out of their losing ways with a pair of wins over St. James and Hulmeville to move them up one notch into fourth place. Like Presbyterian, Calvary combined good pitching and hitting to cop these two victories. Jack Bauer held St. James to only six hits as Calvary rapped out 12 to score an easy 14-2 decision. Harry Erny paced the attack with four-for-four including two triples and a double.

Memorial Season Programs Changed By the Weather

The speaker of the occasion was the Rev. M. J. Peterson, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Ventnor, N. J. He warned that greed, cowardice and impatience must be banished from the world if the world is to be a better place in which to live. The world is like a rolling stone, he said, and like a rolling stone is made up of particles. Those who inhabit the earth are as the particles which compose the stone and therefore are to the earth as the particles are to the stone.

The world cannot be changed within one or two generations, was emphasized by the speaker, but each of the world's inhabitants can change his or her life and thus bring about a better world.

A certificate in recognition of distinguished service rendered veterans and for showing outstanding cooperation to the veterans and citizens of the community was given to Robert C. Ruchl, secretary of the Bristol Cemetery Company. The presentation was made by Commander Healey, of the Bracken Post, on behalf of the officers of the State Legion and of the Bracken Post.

In explanation of the presentation it was stated that Mr. Ruchl had played an active part in having the memorial plot in the cemetery dedicated for that purpose.

Commander Van Aken, Terchon Post, unveiled a portrait of Chester W. Terchon in whose memory the Post is named, and which was painted and given to the Post by Hal Snyder, 116 Buckley street.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Terchon Post Cadets and there was memorial ritual of the Veterans of Foreign Wars by members of both the Schumacher and Terchon Posts and the Terchon Post Auxiliary. Those participating were Mrs. Gilbert Herman, president of Terchon Auxiliary; Charles Slaughter, acting senior vice commander of Terchon Post; John O'Brien, acting officer of day, Terchon Post; Frank Schweitzer, commander, Schumacher Post; and Thomas Goodman, acting junior vice commander of Schumacher Post.

The Rev. Andrew G. Solla, chaplain of Schumacher Post, made the opening prayer as well as officiated in the ritualistic service of the Post. There was benediction by the Rev. Albert Glass, assistant rector of St. Mark's Church, Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., was chairman of the program.

It had been arranged to have flowers dropped from an airplane over the memorial plot at 11 o'clock but due to the weather conditions this feature was cancelled.

Troops of boy and girl scouts participated in the parade.

The weather necessitated change in the program at Hulmeville yesterday. Two services were scheduled, one at Beechwood Cemetery and one at the Hulmeville Memorial Park. Decision was made yesterday to make the parade route shorter, and to conduct the entire ceremony at the Memorial Park. In place of the Rev. John C. Kulp, pastor of Neshaunoy Methodist Church, who was the scheduled speaker, the Rev. Albert W. Eastburn, Eddington, chaplain of Jesse W. Soby Post, American Legion, made brief remarks appropriate to the occasion. Selections by the Soby Post Cadet Drum and Bugle Corps, Langhorne, and by the Harmony Trumpeters, Philadelphia, were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and those attending the ceremonies were warm in their praise of the musical selections. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Oliver Newton, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Hulmeville; and remarks were made by Samuel J. Illick, chairman of the exercises in that community. Donald Zarr gave "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address", and there was group singing of patriotic numbers.

American Legion medals were presented to two outstanding pupils of the eighth grade of Hulmeville-Middletown school on behalf of Soby Post and Auxiliary, presentation being by George Stock, Americanism chairman of the Soby Post. Recipients of these medals, for such characteristics as Americanism, scholarship, courage, etc., were Katherine Reetz and Donald Zarr. Later lemonade and cake were served by the Parent-Teacher Association to the children who marched at the school house in Hulmeville.

At Langhorne yesterday morning the planned parade throughout the borough was cancelled, and services were held at the community house, those at the Langhorne Methodist burial ground being called off. A parade was also held at Pennel, with brief service at the honor roll there.

Tullytown ceremony, scheduled for last Sunday, was postponed until next Sunday.

ST. LUKE'S TEAM IN BIG 7TH RALLY WIN FIFTH GAME

A big seven-run rally in the second inning, featuring a home run by Erwin Weinrich with two on, enabled St. Luke's to score a 10-6 victory over their big rivals, Calvary Baptist, and thereby notch their fifth consecutive victory without a setback in the Lower Bucks Church Softball League to retain their hold on first place by a full game.

Excellent pitching backed by some heavy hitting combined to give Bristol Presbyterian a pair of easy triumphs during the week as they trounced Hulmeville, 28-4; and walloped Church of Our Saviour, 13-2. A tremendous 14-run rally in the fifth in which Presbyterian banged out eight hits, had three walks and were aided by four Hulmeville errors to turn the game into a rout.

First Baptist picked up a couple of victories to move up from a sixth place tie into undisputed possession of third place with a record of two victories and one setback in league competition thus far.

Trailing as much as 6-0 as late as the fifth inning, the Baptist club came a long way with four runs in the fifth, three more in the sixth, and after Hulmeville pushed one over also in the sixth to tie the score at 7-7. First Baptist rallied again in the 7th to score the winning marker as they defeated Hulmeville, 8-7, in a thriller.

Methodist, however, racked up its initial league triumph when they came from far behind twice in the late innings with big rallies to the Bensalem, then they added a lone tally in the 8th inning to win out in a knockdown, drag-out affair, 14-13.

Calvary Baptist snapped out of their losing ways with a pair of wins over St. James and Hulmeville to move them up one notch into fourth place. Like Presbyterian, Calvary combined good pitching and hitting to cop these two victories. Jack Bauer held St. James to only six hits as Calvary rapped out 12 to score an easy 14-2 decision. Harry Erny paced the attack with four-for-four including two triples and a double.

The speaker of the occasion was the Rev. M. J. Peterson, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Ventnor, N. J. He warned that greed, cowardice and impatience must be banished from the world if the world is to be a better place in which to live. The world is like a rolling stone, he said, and like a rolling stone is made up of particles. Those who inhabit the earth are as the particles which compose the stone and therefore are to the earth as the particles are to the stone.

The world cannot be changed within one or two generations, was emphasized by the speaker, but each of the world's inhabitants can change his or her life and thus bring about a better world.

A certificate in recognition of distinguished service rendered veterans and for showing outstanding cooperation to the veterans and citizens of the community was given to Robert C. Ruehl, secretary of the Bristol Cemetery Company. The presentation was made by Commander Healey, of the Bracken Post, on behalf of the officers of the State Legion and of the Bracken Post.

In explanation of the presentation it was stated that Mr. Ruehl had played an active part in having the memorial plot in the cemetery dedicated for that purpose.

Commander Van Aken, Terchon Post, unveiled a portrait of Chester W. Terchon in whose memory the Post is named, and which was painted and given to the Post by Hal Snyder, 116 Buckley street.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Terchon Post Cadets and there was memorial ritual of the Veterans of Foreign Wars by members of both the Schumacher and Terchon Posts and the Terchon Post Auxiliary. Those participating were Mrs. Gilbert Herman, president of Terchon Auxiliary; Charles Slaughter, acting senior vice commander of Terchon Post; John O'Brien, acting officer of day, Terchon Post; Frank Schweitzer, commander, Schumacher Post; and Thomas Goodman, acting junior vice commander of Schumacher Post.

The Rev. Andrew G. Solia, chaplain of Schumacher Post, made the opening prayer as well as officiated in the ritualistic service of the Post. There was benediction by the Rev. Albert Glass, assistant rector of St. Mark's Church. Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., was chairman of the program.

Selections by the Soby Post Cadet Drum and Bugle Corps, Langhorne, and by the Harmony Trumpeters, Philadelphia, were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and those attending the ceremonies were warm in their praise of the musical selections. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Oliver Newton, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Hulmeville; and remarks were made by Samuel J. Illick, chairman of the exercises in that community. Donald Zarr gave "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address"; and there was group singing of patriotic numbers.
